

Parental Involvement

"Behind every child is someone who cares." -Rachel Pittman

To begin the school year, I'd like to share a poem with you. It explains the importance of the dual role parents and teachers have when impacting children's lives.

School

"Parental involvement" can be a valuable tool...
to determine the success of a child in school!

When parents participate, they're showing concern...
the message to the kids, is that it's important to learn!

School

Parental support can be shown many different ways...
volunteering, serving on committees, or joining the P.T.A.!

Attending "Open House" and events like "Back to School"... are fulfilling your role and should become the rule!

The parent stays connected, and demonstrates respect... encouraging words and guidance is what the child expects!

Parents and teachers together, form a most powerful team...
When they work together, it helps the child's self-esteem!

So the level of "parental involvement" becomes an accurate sign...
a more important factor in education would be most difficult to find!
